ASAF Meeting Agenda

■ EFRAG's bulletin of "Prudence"

■ IASB's Disclosure Initiatives

IASB's Disclosure Initiatives	Planned timing
[Short-term actions] Amendments to IAS 1 (see "III. Disclosure initiative")	Plan to finalize in Q3 or Q4 of 2014
Materiality – Assessment of existing guidance In order to respond to concern that materiality is not being applied well in practice, the IASB plans to work with IAASB and IOSCO, and assess adequacy of existing guidance and determine whether additional guidance is required.	Plans to submit the paper to the IASB in Q1 of 2014
Review new EDs disclosure requirements In order to respond to comments that the way IFRS disclose requirements are written contribute to the disclosure problem, the IASB will look at the way new ED disclosure requirements are worded.	On-going
[Long-term actions] Research project – IAS 1, IAS 7 and IAS 8 – FSP project The IASB will work to explore whether amendments to IAS 1, IAS 7 and IAS 8 are necessary.	Potential 2015 Agenda Consultation proposal
Review of existing standards Over the next two years, the IASB will undertake research project to review disclosure in FRS more holistically, and identify and assess conflicts, duplication and overlaps.	Potential 2015 Agenda Consultation proposal

■ AASB's Essay ("Rethinking the Path from an Objective of Economic Decision Making to a Disclosure and Presentation Framework")

Recap of conference call - Prudence

■ Mixed Views Expressed.

■ Some members thought that prudence is important notion and should be reinstated in the Framework or incorporated into guidance, because:

- Prudence is a state of mind but there are various understanding
- Making a clear distinction between ‘good prudence’ and ‘bad prudence’ will contribute to better financial reporting

■ Other members believed that prudence should not be reinstated, because:

- Contradict the notion of “neutrality”
- Accounting standards have different role from prudential regulation

■ There was a view that prudence can be explained in the context of other notions (e.g., faithful representation)

Recap of conference call - AASB's Paper on Disclosure

- Support noted by many members, and many appreciated sharing the highly interesting and well written paper
- Comments noted include:
 - Accounting response is deliberately unstated
 - Important to explore the boundary of “financial reports” and “financial statements”
 - Interesting to think about potential implication to recognition and measurement (profit or loss, OCI?)
 - keen to see how IASB may react to the concept of “flow”
 - Difference between recurring flow and irregular flow
